But their total enter to educate teachers is only when 1 000. to educate teachers. But then real teachers rollment of scholars is only about 1 000. Of these only a part, and probably the lesser part, actually become teachers. The common schools of the state call for about 4,000 teachers annually, and the about 4,000 teachers annually, and the supply comes mainly from the common and high schools. The Sentinel thinks it worth considering whether these schools are not a failure. Of the principals of the 110 high schools in the state only thirty-three have been furnished by the normal schools. The complaint is that these schools do not turn out sufficient of the product for which they were established—practical teachers.—Madison Democrat.

But this condition of things can not be the fault of the management of the normal schools. The course of instruction adopted in the schools, and which is rigidly pursued, is one necessary to bo taken by every one who wishes to qualify himself for the teacher's profession. If the graduates do not enter that profession, it is not because they lack the qualification, but because they engage in other branches of business. It is no argument against the normal school system that a majority of teachers in the stato tho

The absence of many of the normal graduates in the schools throughout the state indicates that the responsibility rests chiefly with school officers who went a cheaper grade of teachers than those graduated from the normal schools

The Chicago Daily News is credited with the enterprise of perpetrating an excellent joke on the Chicago Tribune. The latter paper has frequently deceived its readers by publishing disputches under a foreign date, and marked "special" by cable when in fact they had been written either in Chicago, New York, o Washington. The Daily News concluded to set a trap for the Tribune, and expose its method of stealing the so called The bad blood doesn't seem to have specials. Vest Don't Like Secretary Chandles on General Principles...The Mennepin Scheme--- Notes from the Capital []

WASHINGTON CITY, April 10.—During the discussion of the naval bill in the scrate Secstary Chandler and John Roach came in for a large amount of comment, together with the alleged mismanagement of the naval deextract for the past twenty years. Mc-Pherson said the difficulty in getting money for that branch of the government was owing to the fact that the head of the department was disturbed by the people generally. This remark caused a little excitement. McPherson made it in strong, round tones, as if he desired it to evoke a reply. Hale resented it. He said he was not surprised that the senator from New York had discharged some of the bile that is in him against the secretary of the navy, "I submit," retorted McPherson, "that that is a submit, retorted McPherson, "that that is to very unfair way of treating a fact, if it is one. The senator should not charge the expression to my bile. I do not know that officer, I have no communication with him. I have nover visited the department since that gentleman has been at its head, since that gentleman has could be a feather at the same at the sam Hala said that John Roach's connection with the naval dopartment was clean and reputable, and it was time be name should cease to be used as a by-we and repreach. It was time also that the secretary of the navy should cause to be the target for in-sinuations. "He has had," continued Hale, "all the glare, sunlight and scrutiny of overy-body put upon him. There have been men following him who would have been glad to eatch and trip bim, and I ask if any man can put his finger on any single thing that he has done that places any suspicion upon him?"

Vest replied: "Y say once for all that my opionion of the secretary of the nary is that, while he is a man of great ability, of unquestioned public corrage, I do believe that his personal feelings and his partisan bias would lead him to do things in a public capacity, which I do not think the partisan the public capacity, which I do not think the present of the would be warranted by the interests of the country." [Sensation.]

"Does the sanator mean to suggest," said Halo, "that the secretary has done anything of that kind," "I could not," answord Vost, "put my finger upon one single act of his administration which would oven his administration which would oven subject him to cribicisms, but I mean to say that is my general opinion of him based upon his antecedants as a public man. If my statement is challenged, I can give explicit reasons for uttering it." Mr. Vest then went on to criticise Mr. Roach, whom he classed as the west enemy of our merchant marine as the worst enemy of our merchant marine

The Hennepin Canal.
WASHINGTON CITY, April 10.—The house committee on railways and canals has agreed to report favorably the Hennephn canal bill which was introduced at the beginning of the which was introduced at the beginning of the session by Mr. Cullem, of Illinois. It approves the route surveyed by the secretary of war from Hennepin to Rock Island, and designated in Benyuard's report as the Rock Island route, together with the branch canal, or feeder, from Rock river to the Hennepin canal, it provides that the canal shall be eighty-five feet wide at the water line, and navigable for vessels of at least 250 tens burden. It directs the secretary of war to secure the right of way by agreement, purchase, or voluntary con-veyance of the owners, if it can be done on reasonable terms, but if not the secretary is to institute proceedings to condemn such lands as may be necessary for the right of way.

The secretary of war is also directed to commence work as soon as practicable and within six months after the passage of the act. The sum of $1,000,000 is appropriated as a fund to commence work.

The Postal Telegraph Bill. WASHINGTON CITY, April 10.—The changes in the postal telegraph bill agreed upon by the sonate committee on postalices and post-roads are principally in the scale of rates. The committee having been advised by President Green of the Wastern of rates. The committee having been advised by President Green, of the Western Union Telegraph company, that if slight alteration were made in the proposed rates the Western Union company could see its way clear to offer bids under the clause inviting proposals for the leasing of lines to the government. The committee being desirous to establish a system of postal calegraphy without oppressing the postal telegraphy without oppressing the corporations now in the field, the medifications suggested were readily agreed upon. The impression is now quite general that the bill will receive sufficient support in the senate to assure its adoption.

DANVILLE, Va., April 9.—Senator Vance addressed the citizens here, and said the time for flopping the bloody shirt was passing away since the soler-minded, thinking people of the north wore beginning to inderstand the poculiar state of things in the south, and make allowance for the apparent impatience of the southern people. Southern outrage would never again be enacted. The time of peace and harmony was near at hand, and as for the disturbances caused by colored people it had always been found mean white scoundrels were at the bottom of them. GETTING INTO LINE, roccodings of State Conventions in Penusylvania and Missouri.

Filley and Yan Horn Shake Hands... Randall's Monte Boom ... Fred Douglas for Logan-.. Other Political Points.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 10.—The assembly of the Domocratic state convention was at-tended by a large and enthusiastic crowd of delegates and lookers-on. The convention ras called to order by Chairman Hensel, and Willian. R. Speer was elected temporary chairman, and made a short speech. Rules ere adopted and committees appointed, and then the convention took recess to give the committees time in which to complete their work. The committee on organization unant-mously chose Mr. Speer for permanent chair-man. The convention was overwholmingly in the hands of Mr. Randall's friends, and the helegation to the national convention at Chicago will be solidly in his interest.

At 2:30 the convention was again called to order. Thomas H. Grery, chairman of the committee on a parameter of the committee or a parameter of the committee. littee on permanent organization, reported hat the committee had agreed upon Hon R. lilton Speer as permanent chairman, one elegate from each senatorial district for vice presidents, and half a dozen secretaries.
William Mutchler, chairman of the committee on resolutions then handed in the platform. It sets forth that she Domecrats of Penusylvania declare their fidelity to the fundamental principles of their party, that they are in favor of the strict construction and regid enforcement of the federal constitution, and against cutralization, managely, extravagant arpentralization, monopoly, extravagant ex-penditures, subsides and the debasement of civil service to party spollation; favors a tariff for revenue limited to the necessities of the government, and protection of home industries. The platform concludes with a resolution declaring that Hon. Samuel J. Randall is the choice of the Democracy of Fornsylvania as the candidate of their party for president.

As the third resolution, which refers to the felectoral fraud of 1876—77, by which filder and Hendricks were cheated out of the offices of president and vice president to which they were fairly elected," was road, the convention broke into cheers; but the most bearty cheers were given and repeated again and again when the last resolution, referring to Raudall, was read. The platform, as read, was adopted, and their loud and repeated cries were made for Randall, and his appearance raised such a storm of applause is his enroly been board here. Mr. Sowden aid: "Gentlemen, I give way to the next president of the United States."

Randall expressed his lesting obligations to the convention for the high honors they had done him, and declared that he would always be found in advocacy of the principles expounded by Jefferson, Madison, Jackson, Polk and Buchanan, and in defense of the role and Buchanan, and in defense of the rights of the people of the entire country.

The following named gentlemen were elected delegates at large to the Chicago convention: William F. Harrity, of Philadelphin, who received the highest vote; ex-Senator Wallace, and Messry. Coxe, of Luzzma: Sowden, of Lobigh; Barr, editor of The Efficher Park and Messry. The Pittsburg Post, and Myers, editor of The Harrisburg Democrat,

Missourl Republicans. SEDALIA, Mo., April 10.—Interest in the Filley-Van Horn contest had an early awakoning in the shape of a harmony meeting called by Filley, at $100 a. m. in Gormania called by Filley, at S:30 a, m. in Gormania hall. Mr. Filley presided and made a speech, in which he urged upon the delegates to lay aside old issues, and act as if he and Van Horn did not exist. Speeches of like tonor were made by other speakers, after which the love feast adjourned. At 10 o'clock the Opera House was thrown open to the delegates to the Republican state convention, and such as had secured tickets of admission as spectators, which had been judiciously distributed by Van Horn with a view of excluding sympathizers with Filley. At 10:40 Van Horn called the convention to order, and introduced Chester H. Krum as temporary chairman. Speeches THE MARKETS.

After a recess, at 2:30 the convention reassembled, but the committees, not being ready to report, took a recess, and reconvened at 4 o'clock, but, the committees still being unconvenit to report. propared to report, several speeches were made, and the convention adjourned until? ni.
 At 7 o'clock the convention heard the report of the committee on credentials, and adopted in Gen. O. Guitar, of Boone county, was made permanent chairman, and James C. Broadwell, of St. Louis, secretary. For delegate-at-large R. T. Van Horne was relected.

The resolutions adopted endorse the administration of President Arthur and de-clare that the Missouri Republicans have barted all past differences, and are prepared to work in harmony for the success of the Inharmonious Republicans.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 10.—At the Republican congressional convention for this district the result of the first ballot for chairman was announced as follows: Fitts, 74; Haskell, 73. The chairman then de-chared Mr. Fitts elected. This was the cared Mr. Fitts elected. This was the signal for a general uprising, and the air became thick with ouths and threats. The chairman of the opposing factions were tossed around like shuttlecocks, eyes were blackened, hats smashed, and tables and chairs projected through space. Both candidates for chairman were rapping for order at the same time, two "conventions" were hold simultaneously, and it was a veritable candemonium. Insting and it was a veritable pandemonium, lasting until the delegates and heelers had to desist from sheer exhaustion.

The Draper men selected as delegates to Chicago, Himm Griggs, of Guilderland, and Goorge Campbell, of Cohoes, with Andrew . Draper and Madison Covert, of West Troy, as alternates. Griggs is a pronounced Edmunds man. Campbell is supposed to be for Blaine.

The Smyth faction selected as delegates to Chicago, James Lamb, of Coboes, and ex-Sheriff James A. Houck, of Albany. The al-ternates named were William H. Haskell and ex-State Treasurer N. D. Wendell, of Albany. The credentials were signed by each delegate, and both will go to Chicago, where the national convention will have to settle the disputé.

Fred Douglass for Logan. Philadelphia, Pa., April 10.—Frederick Douglass, in an interview at the close of his lecture on "John Brown" in the Academy of Music, said: "John A. Logan is the first choice of the colored people. They favor him because he has backbone. Ho is a brave man and does not fear to do right even though he is surrounded by his most overwhelming opposition. He supported overwhelming opposition. He supported Pinchback in his fight for a sent in the Culted States sonate. He opposed Fitz John Porter with the courage of a lion. In every campaign he has held up a fresh cloudy shirt to the discomfiture of the Democratic learns.

"It seems that Gen. Logan when a member of the Illinois legislature and of congress just who to the breaking out of the war was an implacable fee to the colored man." Said Mr. Douglas: "And so was Gen. Buter, and many other Democrats who are now and have been from the commencement of the war Union men " the nomination of Mr. Blaine? "I don't know that they have any," said the veteran leader.

Proferences of Delegates. CHICAGO, April 10.—The following is a list by states of the delegates to the national Republican convention chosen, with their presidential preferences, so far as ascertained: Alabama—Fourth district, Arthur, 2; Arkansas—Stato delegation, uninstructed, 14; District of Columbia—Arthur, I, dcubb-ful, 1; Georgia—State convention, for Arthur on first ballot, but Blaine afterwards, 34; Illinois—Fifteenth district, Logan, 2; Kentucky—Seventh district, Blaine, 2; Missouri—Sixth district, Auti-Logan, 2; Mississippl—First district, Arthur, 2; New York—Nineteenth district, Blaine, 3; Arthur, 2 (contesting delegations). The Greenback Convention. CHICAGO, April 10.—The Herald has special from Indianapolis as follows: The Heraid correspondent called upon H. Loonard, chairman of the executive comnittee of the National Greenback party, to inquire concerning the truth of the state tion had been postponed. Mr. Leonard states that the report is false, and that it was started by politicious desirous of throwing a damper upon the national convocation of the party. He says that the convention will be held at Indianapolis the 28th and 29th of June, and that under no circumstances will it be pestponed. Mr. Leonard is the candidate of the Greenback party for governor in tale state, and is anxious that the false rumer concerning the date of the convention be corrected. Samewhat of a Spracise ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 10.—At the congressional district convention to elect delegates to Chicago, the Blaino men, who were supposed to have carried three-fourths of the caucuses, were defeated. The delegates elected are Leonard Burritt, a pronounced Stalwart, and H. H. Warner, the patent medicine man, who, while a candidate of the Bluine faction, declares that he never vote for the man from Maine.

The platform was appropriately decorated with flags and bannors, in the centre of which were the words, "Blue and Gray," in gold latters Corporal Tanner, a Union soldier who lost both his legs in the war, presided. Letters of regret were read from Gens. Grant, Hancek, Christenson, Crawford, Bristow, and Pryor, Sonator Hawley, Maj. Gen. O. B. Wilcox and DoWitt Talmage. Gen. Gordon was the flort speaker, and in the course of new states. was the first speaker, and in the course of an eloquent address said that during the war both armies were patriotic—devoted to liberty and constitutional government— and the soldiers on either side died martyrs, each believing bimself right as they understood it, and in the future he felt confident they would see the north and south as one common army moving together now and forever inseparable. Gen. George A. Sheridan, the next speaker, said that it was the duty of the north to rise in their generosity and help to provide for the crippled men in the south who are unable to take care of themselves. The meeting was also addressed by Gon. Floyd King, of Louisiana, and Hon. A. W. Tourgee. The audience was most enthus:

astic, the speakers being frequently interrupted by rounds of applause. Where the Plots are Made. London, April 10.—A positive proof of the connection existing between the anarchists of Europe and their confederates in the United States has been obtained by the Swiss nuthorities. The prefect of Berno re-cently opened a letter which has been received at the postofice addressed to the expelled anarchist, Kennel. It proved to the from New York and was without a signatur, except that of the "Comite." It promised to send to Kennel for "the friends of the cause" official and genuiue sets of legitimate paper and passports, adding the instruction that it would only be necessary to change the dates of documents to make them ready for the use for which they were intended, and which was evidently perfectly understood, between Kennel and the writer. The authorities are now awaiting the arrival of the promised document, and bolieve that they will fur-nish important clews to the identity of parties engaged in the [anarchist conspiracy of both sides of the Allantic.

In the entire history of Rheumatic and Nouralgic remedies there is no record like that made by ATHLOTHOROS. The testimonals are from the very best people. They are only given after a fair trial. They are direct and unqualified as to the cures it works. The test cases have all them difficult are properly of them. Cases been difficult ones, many of them cases given up by doctors, or where despuir bud set in after remedies were supposed to be exhausted. And last, by no means least, the best and strongest of the testimonials are from persons who never be-fore testified to the merits of any prepar-

THAT "SPECAL CABLE."

Metropolitan Journal

Indubitable Evidence of flow One "Special Cable" Was Obtained --- Little "Sweetness" But FAbundant "Light";

CHICAGO, April 10 .- One of the most igregious hoaxes ever played upon the powspaper profession has just been exposed bere by The Naws. It had for its subject an alleged foreign dispatch published on Sunlay last in The New York Tribune, and for object, principally, it seems, The Chicago Pribune. The dispatch purported to give an article in a London Journal written by Matthew Arnold the English literary critic, detailing his impressions of Americans. specially of Chicago, relative to their condition as regards culture. The article was rather severe on the Garden City, and criticised very freely the asserted ignorance of what real culture is, even among those who would be supposed to have correct ideas on that subject. It declared that what had most impressed the writer here "was a tuin assumption of culture, apon close observation, I found to be very superficially varnished over a very solid basis of Philistinism," very solid basis of Philistinism," and illustrated the statement with several instances which showed "cultured" Chicago in rather had light. It described a discourse by

"I could not halp thinking that Philistinis: a in its frank English expression was a loss un-pleasant sight than was afforded by the thinly disguised Philistinism which was here mposing on itself and making pretenses of prevailing attitude of Chicago society toward things of culture has about it an air of It seems to say: 'These things and we will make them the ashlon. All that need be done is to build costly chapels, to purchase exponsive pic tures, to make the concert and the opera places of fashionable resort." Of course the criticism stirred cultivated Chicago to its attermost depths. The newspapers pubeditorials denouncing language, posed author in vigorous and in interviews prominent citizens spoke in the severest terms of censure of the ingrati-tude and mendacity of the noted apostle of sweetness and light. The Tribune, Inter Ocean and Journal turned the editorial Gat-ling gun losso, and threatened to uttorly annibilate the visitor, who had dared to go home and write harshly of these who had been his hosts whon he was sofourning in a strange land and treated him as an honored guest. The sensation was consequently great when The News published the following:

"Hoaxes have been played before upon newspapers, large and small, and in infre-quent cases only has the fact become known to anybody outside of the journalistic broth-Disputches tuya been stolen before by newspapers, large and small, and the fact has soldom become known to the general public. But it may be said that no more brazen piece of piracy has ever been done by any newspaper, that no more egregious and ludicrous hoar has ever been practiced upon a paper, than was done by and practiced upon The Chicago Tribune in the matter of this spuripractice, has subscribed for some time past. and unwilling to longer permit its 'estocmed contemporary' to objusticate the reading publie with impunity, The Daily News caused to be prepared in this office an article which on its face, and by dint of a close imitation of the style and verbinge of "the apostle of sweetness and light, purported to have flawed from the pen of Mr. Matthew Arnold. By an arrangement with The New York Tribune, the paper from which some of the stealing had been done by its namesake here, this article was to appear in its columns, grouped along with its genuine telegrams from abroad, dated from Loudon, and alored to have been taken on that day from no existence-in which Mr. Arnold wasstated a have been the publication of a series of articles critically descriptive of life and ma nors in America, such as they had impressed him during his trip here. The article was to appear on April 1, but through fear that its Pickwickian character would on that day have been too patent, its publication was was delayed till last Sunday. Then it ap-peared in due form. On Monday the same article, labeled, however, 'Special cablegram to The Chicago Tribune,' and with a few to The Chicago Tribune, and with a few addenda of a local or explanatory nature, was given to the world in our 'esteemed con-lished the supposed "special," but not as a special to themselves. Of the expose of the Arnold phillipic on Chicago is indeed a hoax, as is now generally suspected. The Evening Journal must acknowledge itself 'sold' for once, and, to the extent, that its comments were based upon and justified by the absurd and egotistical statements of that remarkable article, of course it wishes that unsaid which has been said hastly under peculiar provocation." The opinion is ex-pressed that the authorship of the article is identical with that of an alleged letter from Thomas Carlyle, published some years ago, in which that irascible individual indig-

The Inter Ocean has this to say: Matthew Arnold had not scattered acidity Matthow Arinola had not scattered acidity and shadow, instead of sweetness and light upon overy subject he touched while in America, and if he had not won his previous reputation, such as it is, by saying atrid things, The "Pall Mall Journal" article would not have found such ready and the thoughout America and Matthew credit throughout America, and Matthew Arnold would not have had his books writte un and the balance struck against him so peramptorily. The law of othics, which applies to such cases, is that whose sheddeth nitric acid and Chinese musk on mankind in the name of Jucidity and mole ses, by mankind shall his wool be gently lathered with tar."

Lendon, April 10.—The failure of A. M. Gillespie & Co., West India merchants, of this city, is announced. Their liabilities will reach $1,250,000. Mow Ill Is the Kniser?

Crown in the write io, April 10.—The Tribune publishe several columns of crop reports, from all the western and northwestern states and terr tories, and summarizes them as follows: reports from the spring wheat belt of the northwest show that there will be little if any change from the general record of previous vears. In the older states, notably Illi nois, Indiana and Wisconsin there is a marked diminution of the area devoted to this cereal, but the loss thus sustained is compencated for in the fields of Dakota, Minne-sota and Nebraska. A 50 per cent, increase is noted in Brown county, Dakota, and one of over 500 per cent, in Clarke county of the same territory. A Central Illinois report on the contrary chronicles the sowing of the grain for the sole purpose of "keeping the bugs from the other crops" The outbook for Minnosota seems very cacouraging, chiefly in the western and north-western sections, and it is declared by an authority on the subject that there never has been a better spring for seeding wheat than the present one.

SECRET OF SHERIDAN'S LUCK. How a Little Quaker Schoolma'am

Steined Sim to Win Winchester. [Washington Cor. Inter Ocean.]

I saw by the Philadelphia papers the other day that the Crand Army posts in that city had given a reception to Mrs. R. M. Bonsal, and happening to walk down the street with Gen. Sheridan, I asked him if he knew her.
"Do I know her?" he replied with a sur-prised look on his face. "I should say I did, That woman was worth a whole brigade of soldiers and several batteries of artiflery down in the Winchester campaign, and she was one of the remains haroines of the

Tell me about her? "Well, you see I always believed in fighting on information. People said I was reck-less and during, and all that, and when I happened to win a light they said it was Sheridan's Inch. But I tell you there wasn't any luck about it. I nover wons it biind, always knew what I was going to hit before I made a strike, and generally tried to strike at the right time."
"And down there in '64," continued the general, "when I lay before Winchester I vantal information of what was going on in the enemoy's lines, and I wanted it awful bad. I must have it, don't you see, but how I was going to get it I didn't know. Crook was protty well acquainted in all that cougtry, and one day I asked him if he didn't know some one in Winchester we could de-pend on. He said there was a little Quaker zirl in the town that he thought was al ight, and I concluded to try her. There was un old darkey who had a garden patch about lifteen miles from my headquarters, and he had a pass to go into Winehester three or four times a weak with vegetables for the Confederate officers and townspeople. I had him brought to my beadquarters one night and asked him if he knew the schoolma'am. He said he did, and then I asked him if he could got a note to bee without giving her away. He said he could, and then I wrote her a letter on tissue paper, appealing to her lloyalty and requesting her to give me some information of what was going on in the robel camp. I wrapped the note up in the foil, in a little wad, don't you know, and made the old darky carry it in his mouth. The next day he went into town with a load of vegetables and gave it to her."

"What was her name?"

"Rebecca Wright was her name then, but she is married now and her husband's name Bonsal." "Did you got an answer?"

"Yes, the darkey brought me back a reply in which she gave me some very important information and promised to send me more from time to time. We kept up a correspondence after that and I knew overything spondence after that and I knew everything old Early was doing. After a few weeks she sent me word that Kershaw's division of 8,000 or 10,000 men had been detached and was going to join Lee's army. As soon and I learned that he had gone and was far enough off to prevent his getting back, I made the attack and captured Winchester."

"Did you End the girl when you got into "Indeed I did, and my report of that battle as written in her school-room.

'Was she ever rewarded?" "Well, I got her a place in the treasury depurtment, and it was there she got acquainted with her bushand, but I think she ! entitled to a pension."

The name of the medicing is DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and may be safely relied on as speedy and positive cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, etc.

Rosy Mouths, furnished with teeth rendered pearly and glastening by fragrant SOZODONT, usually regarded as an indispensable adjunct of the salet, are perfectly bewitching. So irresistible does the broad cloth sex find them, that it requires the utmost self restraint to forbear imprinting a kiss upon them wherever seen. No corrosive substance contaminates this standard beautifier of the teeth, from which it reFIRST ARRIVAL OF PLANTS IN BLOOM!
